The Roanoke Valley Choral Society presents quality performances of various choral literature to the highest possible standards, thereby enriching the cultural life of the Greater Roanoke Valley community, while providing local singers with an artistic, educational and musical experience.

The general nature, object, and purpose of the RVCS shall be to operate without profit. The RVCS is funded by revenues generated by sales of advertising, and the generosity of its patrons and free will donations, collected (or encouraged) at each performance.

The RVCS uses revenues generated for payment to its creative staff (conductor, accompanist and guest instrumentalists and soloists), advertising for its own performances, printing expenses and rent for the rehearsal/concert venue.
